Site Review Notes

Hi Cici,

Good job getting all that content consolidated into the rough draft. I just noticed a couple weird things that happen when the page is at a smaller scale.

- In the introduction section I think the text might be more readable if the text isn't right next to it but rather above/below it at a certain width.
- You might want to change the point size of the headers for mobile pages.
- The nav bar moves onto a second line at small scales.
- At wide widths, the MIT press section wraps awkwardly around the image

I'm looking forward to seeing the final styled project come to life!

Thanks,

Madison